CASE STUDY

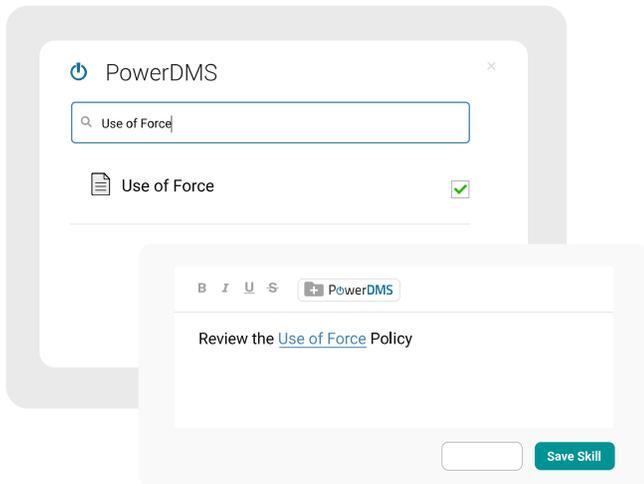

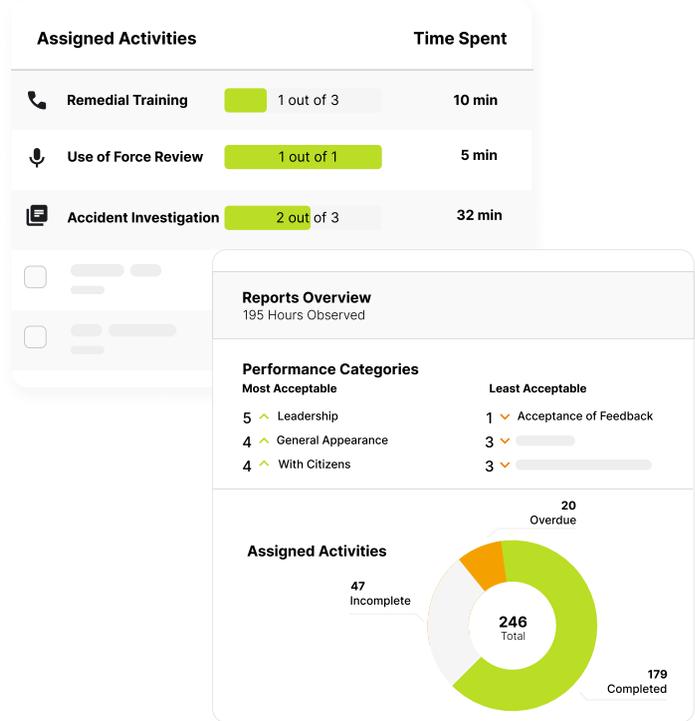

CHALLENGE ONE

Training documentation took months to complete and often ended up lost in the mail or buried in the basement.

✓ OUTCOME

Supervisors can produce records with one click.

Dashboards display reports in real-time. Historic records memorialize training and cut the time to produce documentation down from hours to a split second.

CHALLENGE TWO

Referencing relevant policies used to mean carrying around a book or searching through the system to find the right one.

✓ OUTCOME

Mission critical documentation is available at the click of a button.

Integration with PowerPolicy means every skill is linked directly to the relevant policy, general order, or SOP.

“It’s a huge time savings. Instead of keeping everything on paper, I have an electronic record of all their required training.”
